Maysville Gas Company
INCORPORATED

Maysville, Ky. June 4th, 1915.

Messrs. Calhoun & Reed,
Maysville, Ky.,
Gentlemen:—

Confirming our various conversations of recent date we herewith hand you copy of formal contract providing for the construction, maintenance and operation of the proposed Edgemont Sub-division distribution system of Natural Gas.

According to its terms an abundant supply of Natural Gas for domestic purposes will be provided throughout Edgemont and Natural Gas sold at the same rate per thousand cubic feet as sold to private consumers in the city of Maysville.

Natural Gas throughout Edgemont at the same rate as obtained in Maysville would not be possible except for the large expenditure you have agreed to make in paying all the cost of construction of the necessary extension of the supply pipe line, regulators, etc.

With the great convenience of Natural Gas service provided for in advance, homes in the delightful suburban location of Edgemont should take on an added attractiveness and value. Awaiting your further advices, we remain

Yours truly,

SQUIRE BAKER'S COURT.

Henry Jones was before Squire Baker on Monday on the charge of flourishing a deadly weapon. Henry was creating quite a disturbance in the rear of the home warehouse, in the East End, on Saturday, and when police arrested him he was threatening to shoot his wife. After hearing all the evidence and examining the "deadly weapon," which was a pistol without springs or hammer, the Squire changed the charge to breach of peace and fined him $24.65.

Alex Gifford, colored, who was arrested Saturday while trying to break into the jail, was granted his desire to get behind the bars, in the form of $9.15 on the charge of drunk and disorderly.

CHATTANOOGA TICKETS SELLING FAST.

The advance sale of tickets for this season's Chattanooga is greater than at the same time last year and the indications are that the sale will be even better as the dates draw near. The advance sales on June 22, 1914, were $669, while this year's sale on the same date is $750.

The people are evidently coming to realize the educational value of the Chattanooga and are taking advantage of the reduced prices offered by purchasing season tickets in advance.

MERCERIZED NAPKINS

In these days of high linen-cost many women are using mercerized napkins. These inexpensive napkins are especially desirable in summer when fruit stains ruin so many handsome linens. Mercerized napkins have the appearance and "feel" of linen but cost much less. In fact you can buy two dozen mercerized napkins for the price of one dozen linen. The satisfaction of owning mercerized napkins only begins with their purchase for they retain their soft texture as long as used. Hemmed ready for use. Generous size $1.25, $1.50 dozen.

VOILE DRESSES

Liked by so many women because they are cool and do not muss easily. The prettiest styles of the season in which to exercise your preference. Each dress is the smartest obtainable for $2.50 to $10.

W. P. RICHESON DIES.

FREIGHT WRECK

Two Cars Completely Wrecked and Two Badly Damaged.

Tuesday morning at 5:44, as extra freight No. 828 was coming into the Maysville yards from the west, on the C. & O., and when opposite the lower loop, a draw head dropped down about twenty cars from the engine, derailing and mashing up two wooden gondolas and badly damaging two steel cars.

The train was in charge of Engineer Dick Coppage and Conductor Shannon Hall, and was composed of 104 empties and six loaded cars.

The wreck completely blocked traffic on both tracks, holding the Maysville accommodation train here for about four hours and fast train No. 5 about three hours.

No one was injured, and the Covington wreckers cleaned up what was left of the broken and damaged cars.

ADVERTISING IN THE PUBLIC LEDGER PAYS.

Another one of the many proofs that advertising in The Public Ledger pays has come into this office through Prof. W. T. Berry, of the Maysville public schools. Prof. Berry, who conducts a summer school for delinquent pupils in the Fifth Ward school building, placed a small advertisement in The Ledger on Saturday, announcing his opening for this year's summer term. He expected some little return from the ad, but was astonished when the enrollment of his school was increased over 100 per cent, requiring the services of two assistants. Prof. Berry is firmly convinced that the small ad in The Ledger was the cause of the big increase in attendance of the school.

INSTALLING NEW MACHINERY.

The Sphar Pressed Brick Company have installed a large brick clay mixing machine, the first of its kind to be installed in this vicinity. The machine is very large, requiring one flat car to convey it from the factory to this city and will enable the Sphar Company to turn out the same excellent product in considerable less time.

WILL GIVE BIG DANCE.

Messrs. Keith and Early have made arrangements with Wright's five-piece orchestra, of Columbus, O., to be here on July 1, for a dance which, it is said, will be the best of the season. These gentlemen say that they have a big surprise in store for the dancers during Chattanooga week.

DRY CLEANING

PRESIDENT WILSON TRULY GREAT (?)

The Washington Post says: "In regard to Mexico, the President of the United States has shown an element of true greatness by frankly announcing that he has changed his mind."

If frankly announcing that he has changed his mind is an evidence of true greatness it must be conceded that President Wilson has few equals and no superiors, for he has not only changed his mind once, but he has changed it twice in regard to the Mexican situation, and has, upon a number of other occasions, changed it in regard to several other questions of public interest.

In May, 1914, he declared his intention of securing the removal of the de facto head of the Mexican government and of interfering in Mexican affairs in other respects, particularly in the control of the public land policies of that government. A few months later, in his speech in Indianapolis, he frankly announced that he had changed his mind and asserted that there must be no interference and that Mexico must work out her problems without the assistance or influence of this country. Now he just as frankly announces that he has again reversed himself and proposes to exert an active and aggressive influence in controlling internal affairs of that afflicted country.

A few years ago President Wilson was writing books in which he denounced the initiative and referendum, but when he became a candidate for President, he frankly announced that he had been mistaken and advocated those principles of popular government. Prior to his election he was a devout advocate of the Presidential primary law, but in recent months he has made known his opinion that legislation of this kind is impracticable.

On the stump, when he was seeking the votes of the American people, he was an outspoken advocate of free tolls for American coastwise shipping through the Panama Canal, but soon after he had come into a position of power, he frankly announced his change of mind and forced through Congress a law repealing the free tolls provision.

As a candidate he was a champion of civil service reform and for many years was vice president of the Civil Service Reform League, but as a dispenser of patronage he has resorted to the spoils system to such a large extent as to indicate a complete and astonishing change of mind.

He denounced extravagance in public business and pledged himself to an economical administration, but after election, in an address to Congress, he frankly announced his change of mind by saying that in his opinion the American people did not care how much money was spent provided they received something in return for it.

Truly, it must be conceded that in frankly announcing changes of mind, President Wilson is unsurpassed, and if this be an element of true greatness, as the Washington Post assumes, this Democratic President will go down in history without a peer.

MODERN SHAKESPEARE.

All the world's a film.
Baseball acquaints a man with strange Fed. fellows.

The course of true peace never did run smooth. Discussion is the best part of Villa.

It's a wise stock that knows its own par.
For in my youth I never did apply hot and rebellious grape juice in my blood.

An editor once wrote an editorial entitled "The Naked Truth." The office devil lifted the "T" and made it read "The Naked Ruth," but it happened in high society and was only an incident of the day. And this just reminds us that down among normal human beings clothing makes the man, and the lack of it makes him stare.

As an evidence that the uplift movement has struck Mexico, General Villa is to operate a shoe factory.

And now the remnants of the world are about ready to take the plunge.

Victory By Surprise.

"The Serbians surprised even themselves with their crushing victory over the Austrian armies under Potiorek," said Dr. Milton Hamburger, the German critic, in an address before the German-American Society of Denver.

"Yes, the Serbians were the most surprised of all. It's like the case of Gobsa Golde."

"Two photoartists sat at a window of the Metropolitan Club when a beautiful girl of seventeen or eighteen glided by in a magnificent gray car."

"Young Mrs. Gobsa Golde," said the first photoartist. He smiled and added, "I don't suppose anybody was surprised when old Gobsa eloped with her—she was his stenographer, you know."

"No," said the second photoartist. "No, nobody was surprised except Gobsa himself."

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING
ECONOMY.

From the Kitchen Garden.

In almost every kitchen garden parsley grows, and at every well arranged dinner one, or many times one, dish is garnished with the dainty, curling leaves. From this one might think that we are inordinately fond of the plant, and so we are, but not so much for its food value as its appearance.

There is hardly another plant that will retain its fresh, green color and crispness when placed against hot foods, or laid on heated platters as parsley does.

Even when heated it does not lose its character—witness fried parsley—after it is washed and picked over it is dried in a towel, cut small and dropped in a little hot butter, tossed for a moment, and it comes from the heat as green looking as ever.

This fried parsley is used on foods that must remain covered some time before they are served. For ordinary garnishing the plant is washed, the long stems clipped away, and the leaves kept rolled in a cool, wet cloth or paper until used.

Shallots have a mild and pleasant flavor and are used in place of onions and garlic by those who are acquainted with their superiority. They grow in any garden soil and may be kept in a dry, light place until needed.

Horseradish comes up in the garden year after year, and until it spreads beyond its bounds, little attention is given it. However, try to get it started in an uncultivated spot or from too old a root and you will think it the most contrary plant in the world.

When fresh it is a great addition to all meats, and is even liked in salads, so it is worth growing. If you plant little roots about five inches long they will start quickly and soon develop a burning, spicy taste that marks them ready to grate and use.

The French make a horseradish butter by grating the root and mixing it with fresh butter and keeping it in a cool place. This is excellent on fresh bread with cold meat.

A relish that Germans love is a mixture of grated horseradish and apple sauce pressed through a fine sieve. The juice of an orange or of a lemon may be added to it.

"KARLSRUHE."

Washington, D. C.—Karlsruhe, the south German city successfully attacked recently by a squadron of French aeroplanes, is described in today's war primer of the National Geographic Society as follows:

"Karlsruhe, which might be anglicized as 'Charles' peace of mind," was founded by Karl Wilhelm, margrave of Baden, who built himself a hunting lodge here in 1715, where he might escape the grumblings and disputes of the people of his residence at Durlach. Consistent with the ideals of its foundation, the calm peace of Karlsruhe has never been broken. It is the most untroubled, temperate and composed of all German cities. Push, alertness, nervous ambition, business energy, all these qualities that have come to mark the life of the striving, rapidly progressing cities of the Fatherland, are mellowed and softened in the atmosphere of the town of 'Karl's rest.'

The sky-bombarded city is the capital of the Grand-Duchy of Baden, commercially, educationally and socially of high rank among the cities of the empire. It is situated to the east of the Rhine, on the Frankfurt-on-the-Main-Basel railway, about thirty-nine miles northwest of Stuttgart and thirty-three miles southwest of Heidelberg. It is about seventy miles from the French border, and some forty-six miles northwest of Strassburg. Karlsruhe contains many fine buildings, private and public, bordering the broad avenues, which radiate in the form of an expanded fan from the Palace place. The city is surrounded by beautiful parks and gardens, under whose tree-covered walks the people enjoy the contented, mild philosophy of their traditions.

"Since the establishment of the empire in 1871, the commerce and industries of Karlsruhe have gone steadily ahead, and the city has rapidly multiplied its wealth and population. It numbers now about 115,000, not including a considerable peace time military stationed there. It is the headquarters of the XIV German army corps. Extensive railway shops and a large arms factory are two of the most important industrial branches."

Candia has a stamp tax in force now. The first lot of stamps was sent to Toronto the other day, and proved many times too small, as was the case in this country when the new stamp tax recently went into effect. That city got 50,000 stamps, and says it needed half a million.

OILING THE STREETS.

How It Is Done In Other Cities and Countries.

The following item was sent The Ledger by one of its readers, and is of a timely nature and interest to those who want the streets oiled:

"The city administration has begun the work of oiling the streets and is to be commended for the excellent beginning it has made. The work is being done carefully, intelligently and thoroughly. This gives assurance of good results that should be eminently satisfactory to the citizens of Frankfort. The streets are being swept thoroughly in advance of the oiling and the oil is being applied evenly with the proper mixture of sand to give durability of effect and freedom from the excessive stickiness which is to be noted in some cases when oil is applied to streets and highways.—The State Journal.

"The State Journal congratulates the Mayor of Frankfort and the officials and employees under his direction upon the manner in which the oil is being applied.

"The people of Frankfort are to be congratulated upon having a government which wants to attend to public business in a business-like way, and desires to give the taxpayer a square deal.

"The best use has never been made of oil in Jefferson county. Traffic has been allowed upon the county roads and also in the parks—to pass over the oil before it has soaked into the road and the oiling is done without sand. The county roads are oiled with the dust upon them. Vehicles passing over them pick up large hunks of oil, dust and screenings, breaking the binder and leaving the macadam in a condition to water-rot and wear badly. The park roadways usually are in better condition when the oil is applied, but often are opened when the oil is still a sticky, slippery surface, dangerous to automobiles and injurious to all vehicles.

"Whenever a road slippery with fresh oil is allowed to remain open—in violation of the specifications which provide for half of it to remain open while the other half is being oiled—someone should be prosecuted. But no one has been, and for that reason the contractors who apply the oil do as little work as may be done to collect the money.—Courier-Journal.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Women should understand that melancholy, commonly called the "Blues," is in nine times out of ten a pure symptom of some organic derangement which should have attention. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for such conditions, as proved by many testimonials which we are constantly publishing from women who have been restored to health by its use.

FILMS MADE FROM SKIMMED MILK.

The menace of a "film famine" which, because of the European war threatened to hurt the American moving picture industry, has been banished. Moving picture film is being made out of skimmed milk. The first roll of practical skimmed milk film was shown in the exhibit of the Illinois state food commission at the national dairy show.

Chicago has twenty police-women.

Mr. Lynch is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. #### LOVES OF GREAT AMERICANS.

John Alden and Priscilla.

In Southampton, England, lived a young cooper, John Alden by name. He was tall, florid, blue of eye and flaxen of hair, a true Saxon type. In the summer of 1620 the little 180-ton Mayflower, starting on her maiden voyage to America, put in at Southampton for repairs. Among the passengers was a slender, dark-eyed girl, Priscilla Mullens—or Molines, Alden saw her—and volunteered for the voyage to the New World. He was the youngest man in the whole expedition.

Aboard the Mayflower were a band of Pilgrims—honest, simple, hard-working folk, for the most part; deeply religious; bent on founding a colony in North America. In December of 1620 they anchored off a desolate stretch of land at what is now Plymouth, Mass.

In the first shore boat was John Alden. And he it was who first set foot in the new colony, leaping from out the bow of the boat to a great rock that jutted out into the water—Plymouth Rock. Close behind him landed Captain Miles Standish; man of iron and leading spirit of the little group of colonists.

That first winter in bleak New England was one of horror. Starvation, cold and disease leveled toll on the handful of newcomers. Among those who died were Priscilla Mullens's father and mother and brother and Rose Standish, the captain's delicate young wife.

During those terrible months there was little chance to think of love making. But at last the colony took root in the Massachusetts soil and began to prosper. Then it was that Captain Miles Standish realized that he was lonely and looked about him for another wife. His choice fell on Priscilla. Left all alone in the world, the girl was bravely doing her share of the colony's hard work; and, meantime, was blossoming into glorious womanhood. Standish was more used to fighting than to courting. Moreover, he had no time to waste in laying siege to a girl's heart. The cares and duties of a leader pressed too heavily upon him. So he decided to do his wooing by proxy. And the man he picked out to plead his cause with Priscilla was young John Alden.

Alden, like all the Pilgrims, held Standish in semi-reverential awe. And when the great captain bade him go to Priscilla and ask her to become Mistress Standish, he lacked the courage to refuse. Although Alden had long and secretly adored Priscilla, he choked back his own heart's yearnings

Allows Audience to Choose His Encores at Chautauqua Recital

MARCUS A. KELLERMAN.

RARELY does the public come in contact with a great musician who is as thoroughly human as Marcus A. Kellerman, the dramatic baritone who is to appear in a recital on the third day of the Redpath Chautauqua. Kellerman is a giant in stature and is just as fond of outdoor sports as any other young American.

As a further testimonial of his desire to be "just folks" Mr. Kellerman has notified the Redpath Chautauqua management that during his tour this season he will sing as encores the selections requested by his hearers. From the list below patrons will choose their favorite number and leave it with the Chautauqua superintendent any time after the opening day. The selections named by the greatest number of people will be sung.

The list follows: "Evening Star," "Torreador Song," "A Little Bit of Heaven," "I Hear You Calling Me," "Banjo Song," "Can't You Hear Me Call?" "The Rosary," "Mother Machree," "Valentine's Prayer" and "Danny Deever."

and dutifully set forth on his mission.

He called at Priscilla's home, and at the first chance, launched forth into praise of Standish. He told her of the captain's heroism, his wisdom, his godliness, his fitness to be a husband of whom any woman might be proud.

Priscilla, who, womanlike, had long guessed at Alden's own secret, listened in growing amazement to his warm praise of his rival. When at last Alden asked her, point blank, if she would marry Standish, she inquired:

"Why does he not come in person to woo me?"

"He is too busy," faltered Alden, tactlessly.

"Then," dared Priscilla in sudden indignation, "go back and tell him I will be the wife of no man who is 'too busy' to ask me himself."

Alden rose to leave the house. As he reached the door, Priscilla said demurely:

"You have spoken right eloquently for your friend. Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"

All the colony turned out, with rude gifts and heartfelt good wishes, to the wedding of John Alden and Priscilla Mullens in the new built Plymouth church. Miles Standish alone was absent from the ceremony. Nor did he ever wholly forgive what he termed Alden's "perfidy."

Alden and Priscilla lived together in peace and prosperity for more than sixty years. They had eleven children. And two Presidents of the United States—John Adams and John Quincy Adams—were direct descendants of theirs.

"GRADISCA."

Washington.—The National Geographic Society issued today the following description of Gradisca, a central point upon the front of the invading Italian armies that are pressing toward the Istrian lands:

"Gradisca is a strategic point upon the western branch of the trunkline from Klagenfurt to Trieste, the railway dividing at Gorz, one branch taking its way southwest through Gradisca and Montebelluna, the other making a wide sweep to the southeast, joining again just before Trieste. The great part of interior Austria's commerce with her famous seaport has passed over this line in peace times, and, with Istrian territory under attack, both branches of this northern railway assume a primary importance as a line for the forwarding of munitions of war. Montebelluna, about ten miles southwest of Gradisca and some four miles from the Adriatic, is situated upon this rail line where it is joined by an Italian branch from Venice.

"Chiefly important as a point for the defense of northern rail communications, Gradisca has enjoyed little or no public attention for several centuries past until the recent Italian invasion. On rarer occasions, some tourist leaves the recognized paths for self-improvement, paths painfully marked out by hold mile posts in the travelers' guides, and wanders to Gradisca and through the neighboring historic, but now desecrating, cities at the head of the Adriatic. There are many stirring associations in this country, where the Italians, the Slavs and the Germans have met in friction of borderland strife and diplomacy through centuries. There are no cities of this importance throughout this entire region.

"Gradisca lies ten miles southwest of Gorz, or as the news dispatches are carrying the name, Goritz. It is a dwindling village of 4,000 inhabitants. It is a strongly fortified point, guarding the right bank of the Isonzo and the railway line. Almost the entire population is Italian, or with a strong intermixture of Latin blood. In 1420, it came under the power of Venice. In 1647, Gradisca and surrounding territory was made into a separate courtship in the favor of a noble German family, and, upon the extinction of this line, in 1717, it passed to Austria. The only commercial importance of Gradisca is that of its silk spinning."

IMPORTANT DECISIONS

Court of Appeals Affirms Judgment in Ireland Case and Returns Barnett-Brand Suit For Retrial.

The Court of Appeals on Friday rendered decisions in two important cases from this county.

The decision of the lower court is affirmed in the case of the Edgington-Griffith Construction Company vs. James Ireland. The case was one of breach of contract and arose out of the double tracking of the C. & O. railroad in Lewis county several years ago. The jury in the Mason Circuit Court rendered a verdict for the defendant, James Ireland, in the sum of $10,500 damages against the Edgington-Griffith Construction Company, of Nashville, Tenn. After being twice tried in the lower court it has been finally settled by the decision of the Court of Appeals and Mr. Ireland will now come into possession of the money which has been tied up since the litigation began. Mr. Ireland was represented by Attorneys J. M. Collins and T. D. Slatery. A. D. Cole, of Maysville, and Green, Webb & Tate, of Knoxville, represented the defense.

The other was the case of Barnett vs. Brand, wherein the administrator of the estate of Florence Barnett brought suit against Dr. Leslie Brand for $10,000, alleging that an unskillful surgical operation performed by the defendant upon Mrs. Barnett several years ago, had caused her death. In the lower court the case was determined in favor of Dr. Brand and the plaintiff appealed, with the result that the Court of Appeals, on Friday, remanded the case for retrial.

J. M. Collins and A. D. Cole represented the plaintiff and the defendant was represented by Worthington, Cochran & Brown and T. D. Slatery.

Summit Point, W. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

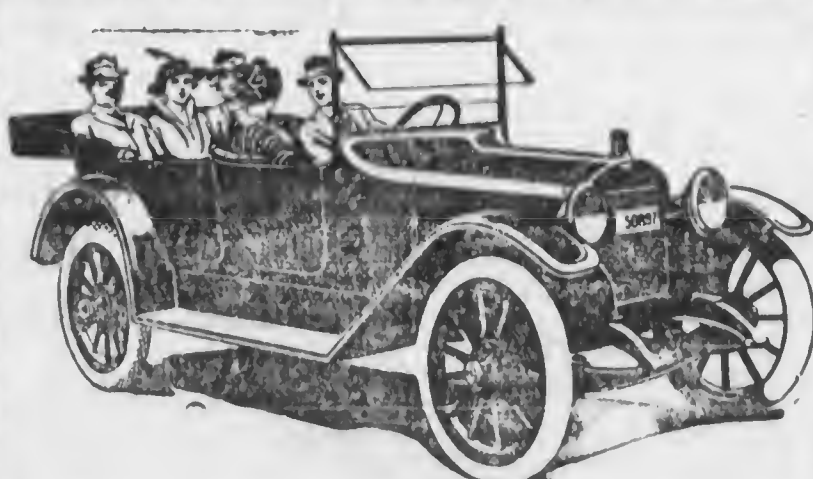

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

HARD NUT TO CRACK

Sewer Problem in the Fifth and Sixth Wards Cussed and Discussed by Council Monday Night.

As per adjournment of Monday, June 16, the City Council met Monday night to consider anything pertaining to the solution of the most gigantic problem it has yet been confronted with—the matter of properly sewerage the Fifth and Sixth Wards.

At a previous meeting of Council, City Engineer Glazier was instructed to prepare plans and estimates on the proper drainage of the Fifth and Sixth Wards, the main object being to do away with those sewers emptying into the river above the pumping station of the city water works, and to provide sufficient drainage to take care of the surface waters and stop the overflowing at street intersections in the Fifth Ward, and he presented the report of his work to Council Monday night in the shape of a complete map of the system of sewers of those two wards now in use and the drawings show how incomplete the drainage and how nonsensical to put down sewers or make any such improvement without having a competent man to do the work. The sewers were built without any manholes or lamp holes through which inspection and cleansing must be done, and the task of giving any absolutely correct figures was as bad as how to build sewers and brick streets without any money.

Mr. Glazier told the Dads that it would take $3,500 to build a sewer from Carmel street down Second to Poplar to take care of sanitary drainage only, allowing the surface waters to run into the sewers now down.

These figures were $1,000 in excess of the amount apportioned to the Internal Improvement Committee to carry on its yearly work, and something else was substituted.

Mr. Glazier then recommended that an eighteen-inch sewer be constructed from Lexington street to Poplar street on Second and down Poplar to the river—in all a distance of about 800 feet; this sewer to be used for sanitary drainage only, the cost of which will be about $2,500.

This will empty into the river below the pumping station of the water works. It will be fitted with all the necessary lamp and man holes and if built according to his plans, will be first-class.

Bids will be advertised for, to be opened at the next meeting of Council, on July 5. The Sixth Ward sewers will be cared for later.

The opening of bids for repairs to Limestone bridge was deferred until the next regular meeting, as a Maysville firm had failed to get its bid in at Monday night's meeting.

At this juncture, Mayor Lee stated that he had a petition to read that had just been handed him, and here is what the document "handed" to the Dads:

To the Mayor and Members of the City Council of Maysville, Ky.:

Gentlemen—The undersigned states that she is a citizen and taxpayer of Maysville, Ky., and the owner of a house and lot fronting on the north side of Second street, between Market and Limestone streets, in the city of Maysville, in the rear of which is an alley, which has at all times been necessary to the comfortable use and the enjoyment of her said property.

The undersigned further states that your honorable body has recently permitted the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, its agents and servants, to extend longitudinally upon said alley a switch or side-track, whereby ingress and egress to and from the rear of her said property has become greatly impaired, if not totally destroyed, both by said track and the use of locomotive engines and trains of cars thereon, whereby smoke, soot and cinders are thrown upon said property and the same is also subjected to noise and vibrations to such an extent that said switch is a menace to her welfare and a nuisance.

The undersigned, therefore, protests against the same, and calls upon your honorable body to exercise the authority vested in it to remove the nuisance thus created and to restore or cause said alley to be restored, to the condition in which it was in before its unlawful occupation. You are respectfully requested to inform me at once whether you will or will not abate the nuisance. Your failure for thirty days to take action or respond will be construed and treated as a denial of my request.

Witness my hand, this 21st day of June, 1915.

MRS. ANNA REDDEN.

Mr. Keith moved that the petition be received and it was done by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Fleming then asked that the numerous holes in Second street from the bridge on east, be filled and the street made passable. Mr. Foster, chairman of the Internal Improvement Committee, was instructed to attend to this matter at once.

Mr. Cullen asked that Lower street, between Second and Front, be put in condition by cleaning it and otherwise improving it, which was ordered, and upon his motion it was ordered that some needed repairs be made to the entrance of the C. & O. depot lot.

And then it was ordered that Council adjourn.

Mr. A. E. Rankins, of Augusta, was in this city Monday on business.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS

Mr. William L. Humphrey and Miss Carrie R. Slater were married Thursday evening at the home of the bride, on West Third street, by Rev. Hammond, of Scott's M. E. church. This is the happy culmination of a year's courtship and their many friends are not at all surprised to learn of it.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey, of Forest avenue, and the bride is the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett, of West Third street. After the wedding ceremony was performed the parents gave a delightful reception in honor of the couple. They will make their home with the bride's parents.

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE FOR

LEO M. FRANK.

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—His sentence commuted from death to life imprisonment, Leo M. Frank left for the state prison farm at Milledgeville at midnight. Sheriff Mangum was notified of the commutation only a short time before the train left. He put the prisoner in an automobile at once and escorted him to the train. It was expected he would begin work on the farm Tuesday.

Governor's Statement.

Governor Slaton issued the following preliminary to his formal statement on the Frank case:

"All I ask is that the people of Georgia read my statement and consider clearly the reason that I have given for commuting this man's sentence to life imprisonment. I am absolutely satisfied that I did right.

"Feeling as I do about this case, I would be a murderer if I allowed this man to hang," the Governor's statement said. "It means that I must live in obscurity for the rest of my days and I would rather be plowing in a field than to feel the rest of my life that I had that man's blood on my hands."

THE SHOWS.

The Gem presented another one of the "Who Pays?" serials Monday evening to a large audience. A Selig-Hearst world events film was also shown and the Gem orchestra again delighted the audiences.

The Washington Opera House was notified about noon by wire that the "Minstrel Maids" could not be here and had cancelled their date in this town. Manager Russell got busy and soon had a company booked to appear in the place of the "Maids," which, no doubt, is much better than the original booking. Rhodes and Frichie, the first on the program, gave a nifty little sketch entitled "Fooling Father," which calls for live characters, but was filled by two persons.

The male member of the team playing three parts and doing is so well that the audience was guessing at all times. "The Four Palettes" were next on the bill, and their act is one of the best ever seen in this city, involving some real artistic talent. This company of four made some queer looking daubs of paint on some paper which, when collected and placed side by side, made several beautiful pictures.
